

Pilgrimage to Yerushalayim via Santiago de Compostela and Roma

The present journey respect three topics : starting from home, join the three main traditional medieval pilgrimages and walking through the Valtellina.

The average mileage is only 20km per day. In fact, it's only an average and this reasonable mileage will allow unexpected situations but above all from time to time stops depending of the welcoming for a rest day or of resourcing in respecting the global expected duration.

If I couldn't be out of office for more than one year, the starting point could be Ponferrada (6.800 km, 48 weeks), last main city on the Camino Francés before Santiago de Compostela rather than thinking about a more important mileage.
